REVISION

Delete question and answer to Q2 in Addendum 1 dated February 22, 2022:

Q2: Will the RDN provide access to its ArcGIS Online Creator account to build the web mapping tool, or will the successful consultant need to use their own?

A2: The successful consultant should use their own ArcGIS Online Creator account.

Replace question and answer to Q2 in Addendum 1 (bold text added) with:

Q: Will the RDN provide access to its ArcGIS Online Creator account to build the web mapping tool, or will the successful consultant need to use their own?

A: The successful consultant should use their own ArcGIS Online Creator account. If the consultant does not have this, they would need to provide an alternative proposal to develop the web mapping tool in a manner that meets the RDN's objectives as stipulated in the RFP, including that ongoing maintenance, and updating of the tool can be performed by the RDN GIS department once project is complete.
